NASAA Organic is a not-for-profit industry association that plays a vital role in supporting, promoting and educating industry and consumers in organic, biodynamic and sustainable agricultural practices.

NASAA Organic was formed in 1986 to deliver the following benefits to Australia's Organic Industry:

- Greater adoption of organic, biodynamic and sustainable agricultural practices
- A sustainable return for organic goods in the market, reflective of their higher quality and safety
- Promotion of broad understanding of the value of organic, biodynamic and sustainable agricultural practices
- Generate support from Government, consumers and agriculturists for organic farming practices and demand for their products.
- Provide the public greater democracy in choices over food production techniques
- Employment growth and development opportunities for regional areas and communities
